General Information:

US Motor Works has more than 35 years of experience in the Heavy Duty Industry. US Motor works is well known for manufacturing Automotive Aftermarket components, but from day one their commercial base and their outstanding customer service evolved from years of work in Heavy Duty. From 1975 to 1995 the founders of USMW polished their skills in the industry by servicing the domestic and international Heavy Duty markets through FP Diesel. The Manufacturing of automotive water pumps began in 1995, but heavy parts are hard to ignore, and a couple of heavy duty water pumps were developed. By 1997 USMW was manufacturing over 35,000 water pumps per year; mostly to other well-known manufacturers in the US and distributors in the International market. Ten years later in 2007, USMW reached the milestone of 1,000,000 water pumps per year. This was achieved by combining domestic and international manufacturing. The Heavy Duty line was kept strictly here in the US, assembling about 75 part numbers. In 2009 the factory had to be moved to a larger 70,000 square ft facility in Santa Fe Springs, CA, where Water Pumps, Fan clutches, and Fuel Pumps are all housed. The Heavy Duty water pump line was the first to be assembled and put to work. After 15 years of manufacturing the line is as strong as ever with over 120 part numbers for domestic, European and Asian applications... It is no coincidence our offering surpasses that of our competitors.
